Privacy Policy

Last updated: 10 September 2026

Creed McStay LLP ("we", "us" or "our") respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal data in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and alongside the Data Protection Act 2018

1. Information We Collect

We may collect personal information that you provide to us, including your name, contact details, identification information and information relevant to your legal matter. We may also collect information when you contact us through our website, email or telephone.

2. How We Use Your Information

We use personal data to:

- provide legal services and advice;
- communicate with you about your matter;
- comply with our legal and professional obligations;
- administer our business and maintain appropriate records; and
- comply with applicable legal, regulatory and professional requirements.

3. Sharing Your Information

We will only disclose your personal data where necessary to provide our services, where required or permitted by law, or where necessary to comply with our professional and regulatory obligations. Where appropriate, we may share information with courts, opposing parties, professional advisers, service providers or other relevant third parties.

4. Security and Retention

We take appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect your personal data. We retain personal information only for as long as necessary, including to meet legal, regulatory, insurance and professional record-keeping requirements.

5. Your Rights

Subject to applicable law, you may have rights to access, correct, delete or restrict the processing of your personal data, as well as other rights under the GDPR.

To exercise your rights or ask questions about how we process your data, please contact:

Creed McStay Solicitors LLP, Oxmantown Green, Blackhall Street, Dublin. D07 EPW2

You also have the right to make a complaint to the Data Protection Commission (DPC), Ireland's data protection supervisory authority (An Coimisinéir Cosanta Sonraí).

6. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. The latest version will be published on our website.
